Description

Butcher knife with 21 cm blade – reliable professional knife for demanding cutting tasks

The DICK butcher knife from the ErgoGrip series is a robust knife for professional use in butcheries, large-scale kitchens and food processing. With a blade length of 21 cm, it is suitable for high-force cutting tasks on larger cuts of meat and blocks. The blue handle allows clear colour-coded assignment in the workplace, for example to comply with HACCP concepts.

Product features

- Designed for high-force cutting tasks on large meat and food blocks
- Colour-coded handle design enables clear area assignment and supports hygienic working processes
- ErgoGrip series for ergonomic working and secure grip even when wet or greasy

- Suitable for continuous use in professional kitchen and slaughterhouse operations
