Description

DICK ErgoGrip Boning Knife with Granton Edge – precise tool for professional meat butchering

The DICK ErgoGrip boning knife with a 21 cm blade and Granton edge is a professional knife for commercial food processing. The Granton edge reduces the contact surface between the blade and the cut product, facilitating clean, efficient work when butchering meat. The knife is part of the ErgoGrip series by F. DICK and is designed for continuous use in professional butchering operations.

Product features

- Granton edge reduces the adhesion of cut product to the blade
- Blade length of 21 cm suitable for large-scale butchering work
- Part of the ErgoGrip series featuring an ergonomically designed handle
- Designed for continuous use in commercial meat processing
